Kyushu University Hospital (Japan), Kitakyushu General Hospital (Japan), Tokunaga Pediatric Clinic (Japan)	As part of a project initiated by Fukuoka Prefecture, Kyushu University is working to strengthen collaboration among medical institutions, provide information on welfare support, enhance medical staff's expertise, and promote public awareness of epilepsy care. As part of these initiatives, a training seminar was held on transitional care from childhood to adulthood and inter-institutional collaboration, both of which remain critical issues. For this event, pediatricians from regional general hospitals and local pediatric clinics were invited as guest speakers.
