Kyushu University Hospital (Japan), Kenyatta National Hospital (Kenya), Machakos Teaching and Referral Hospital (Kenya), Coast general hospital Mombasa (Kenya), Nairobi Gastroenterology Training Center (Kenya)	The teleconference was held between Kenya and Japan. It began with a review of this year's activities, followed by a case discussion by physicians from both countries. The Kenyan side presented cases mainly of gastric and esophageal cancer and discussed treatment strategies. The Japanese side introduced a rare case of gastric syphilis. Finally, a Kenyan doctor who had training at Kyushu University Hospital reported the training content and outcomes to stakeholders in Kenya.
